La Quinta Milonga is as you can see from its image, full of strength and personality coming from the Monastrell variety. It is made from more than 40 years old vines, planted at 700m above the sea level in the sandy and limestone soils of Jumilla, Murcia.

It is a beast that we have managed to tame by ageing it through 4 months of oak barrels. ¿The result? A balanced wine, refreshing and tasty, blackberries and liquorices are the predominant aromas and tastes, but it also has some spicy notes from its time in oak.

Here we present a honest and modern wine, perfect to share in company.

Tasting Notes:

Appearance: Intense cherry color, typical from the Monastrell variety with purplish sparkle.

Nose: It is a pronounced wine. Ripe blackberries and liquorices as the predominant aromas but also some vanilla and spicy notes.

Palate: It is tasty and elegant wine, full bodied with refreshing acidity that balance it. Structured with ripe and pleasant tannins. Berries, specially ripe blackberries and liquorices are main fruit in the palate, but also vanilla and spicy notes from the oak. Long aftertaste to ripe brambleberry.
